LAWS OF INSURANCE

Paper Code: BL--706	Insurance Law	Choice Base (Group B)	Credits:03
----------------------------	----------------------	------------------------------	-------------------

Course Description:

The insurance idea is an old-institution of transactional trade. The age old form of insurance was the marine insurance. There is nothing like disaster to set men's minds to work. Consequently, in due course of time fire and life insurance, made their appearance. Within the last hundred years the insurance principle is being extended wider. Today on finds insurance cover for accidents, Motor Vehicles, glass, Live - stock, crop, burglary and various other disasters.

Insurance is a device not to avert risks, calamities and disasters; but to mitigate their rig ours and financial losses. The function of insurance is to spread such loss arising from risks of life over a large number of persons.

The operational framework of insurance idea is provided by the general principles of contract. The insurance policy, being a contract, is subject to all the judicial interpretative Techniques. Besides, the insurance idea has a compensatory justice component. This brings it in the arena of the Law of tort as well. It is even suggested that a fully grown and developed Law of insurance may, if not totally displace, decrease the significance of the Law of tort.

This course is designed to acquaint the students with the conceptual and operational Parameters of insurance Law in the context of the development of the general principles of Law and judicial interpretation to inform the students about the use of Law for the establishment of "just" order in insurance and to develop the appreciative and evaluative faculties of the students.
